

Princeton University: DEPARTMENT

Office of the President

To Dean Donald Stokes

DATE May 2, 1979

SUBJECT

FROM William G. Bowen

Dear Don:

At a recent meeting of the Board of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Josh Lederberg (also a member of that Board) and I talked briefly about programs that may develop at Rockefeller University under his leadership. (As I am sure you know, Josh succeeded Fred Seitz as President of Rockefeller University in 1978.) In particular, one idea Josh is considering is to encourage more work in the area of science policy. From this perspective, he has an evident interest in learning something about the programs of the Woodrow Wilson School, thoughts you might have on this subject, and conceivably possibilities for cooperation. Accordingly, I promised to alert you to this set of interests and to ask if you would try to find a time when you and Josh might talk. It might also make sense to include Bob Jahn from the School of Engineering and Applied Science in these conversations.

W. C. B.

WGB:lc

cc: President Joshua Lederberg,
Rockefeller University

INTER-OFFICE CORRESPONDENCE